

2008 Analog-Intensive-Mixed-Signal Circuits, Applications, and Technology (AIMS-CAT) Conference Announcement

Hosted by Jazz Semiconductor
Newport Beach, California
October 22, 2008

This one day conference brings together a wide range of influential technical professionals and managers focused on analog-intensive-mixed-signal circuits, applications, and technology to discuss the latest trends and results. The conference will include a list of key invited speakers as well as contributed talks, vendor exhibits, and a cocktail reception hosted by Jazz Semiconductor in its Newport Beach, California campus. The following day (October 23, 2008) will be the annual Jazz Technology Conference (http://www.jazzsemi.com/news_events/events.shtml) and all attendees are encouraged to stay for the full two-day event.

Call for papers

Papers are solicited for the AIMS-CAT conference in the area of analog-intensive-mixed-signal including advances in design methodology, system architecture, breakthrough IC demonstrations, test/package innovations, modeling and design enablement, and process technology. Application areas may include but are not limited to Analog and RF Integration, Power Amplifiers and Front-End Modules, High Speed Analog and Millimeter-Wave, Optical Networking, Radar, Power Analog, and MEMS.

Paper submission:

- Limited to 1,000 words and six figures
- Include a brief description of the presentation for the program (100 words)
- Include presenter's profile (50 words) along with contact information: name, title, company, address, office and phone and fax, email and website if applicable)
- Submitted by email in MS word or PDF to: Melinda.Jarrell@jazzsemi.com

List of important dates:

- Deadline for proposals: July 14, 2008
- Notification of acceptance: No later than August 1, 2008
- Deadline for final presentations: No later than October 3, 2008
- Presentations will be included on a CD for all attendees

Presentation format:

- Presentation format must be in PowerPoint or PDF
- 20 minute presentation and 10 minute Q&A

All attendees and presenters are encouraged to attend the Jazz Annual Technology Conference on the following day, October 23rd at Jazz Headquarters.

Exhibition

There will be a formal exhibition area, open on both days (October 22-23) where all attendees will be able to experience the latest with tool and IP providers, design companies, and post wafers service companies.
